spiny lobster, goldfish and farmed shrimp. Finally and after a merger agreement with the Japanese group Nissui, I was invited to take over the general management of supplies for the group from the head office in Recife. Where I lived for two years

Supply Development, Fleet manager, Fisherman at Several South Brazilian Companies, Rio Grande, Florianopolis, Itajai, Ilheus

January 1987 — December 2004

After graduating with a Bachelor's degree in Oceanography, I went to the most developed fishing port in the country, in Itajai, where I worked in command and teaching functions in the use of prospection equipment (probes and sonars) in sardine, tuna, shrimp and trawl fleets. In this environment I also traveled and had experiences in the state of Bahia and a brief international experience with a New Zealand deep-sea trawler company. I have had opportunities to travel to many European countries and the United States, and two periods in China, where we send products for processing.

🎓 Education

Oceanography-Bachelor, Fundação Universidade do Rio Grande - FURG, Rio Grande

March 1983 — December 1986

At that time there were just two Oceanography courses in Brazil, I was already sure that was what I wanted to study and work, decided to go to Rio Grande do Sul, at that time and till today the top referenced Oceanography school we have,
